KEYNOTE OF INSTITUTE

R. D. WHITE TELLS HOW WAR IS AFFECTING TREND OF EDUCATION

Teachers of Glendale and Tropico put in most of last week in attendance on the County Institute held in Los Angeles. Attendance is compulsory but in this instance they felt repaid. Such, in effect was the report of Richardson D. White, Superintendent of the Glendale schools. Commenting on the program he said:

"The keynote of the Institute was the position of the schools with regard to the war, what children can do to help in the crisis, and what the effect of the war is going to be on education. Speakers seemed to think there should be some radical changes in school management which would make for efficiency. One such might be the doing away with the district system and a change to the county unit of school management. It would work out for efficiency in several directions. First there would be the consolidation of small country schools which in some districts have an income of only about $600 or $700. It would bring about greater uniformity in the matter of school advantages since the school money would be divided according to the needs of the school and attendance, and the small school would not suffer by reason of being small and poor. Now, part of the funds come from county and state and part are local, which gives the rich districts a tremendous advantage. Under the system proposed, all children would have an equal chance and there would be a saving of expense because fewer teachers would be needed. The isolated country schools with perhaps but half a dozen scholars would be done away with and pupils would be gathered up and distributed with the proper quota to each teacher.

"There would also be a great saving in the purchasing of school supplies. The County Superintendent's records show a wide difference in the prices paid by the different districts for the same thing. Glendale, for example, can get figures that the small country districts cannot get on materials.

"Such a change would of course necessitate providing transportation for pupils, but it would give them greater advantages and save money for the tax payers.

"It is probable that we will have to make changes in our courses of study which will lead to greater efficiency in order to meet the problems which the end of the war will bring, with its big government indebtedness. We are going to have to train for greater efficiency, for vocational work and special occupations. This will probably affect the course of study quite materially, tending in the direction of more practical and less theoretical work. Many speakers took the stand that this will be the tendency in educational work. It was the best institute I have ever attended."

HOLIDAY EVENT

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hearnshaw were host and hostess at a very pretty card party given at their home Saturday night. A beautiful tree, holly and other Christmas greens furnished the special decorations for the event. The guest list included Mr. and Mrs. Albert D. Pearce, Mr. and Mrs. John Roman, Mr. and Mrs. J. Fortunato, Walter Butterly, Mrs. Leyben, Mrs. Hadley Brown. A very pleasant evening was spent playing Five Hundred, Mrs. Roman winning the first ladies' prize, Mr. Pearce the first gentlemen's prize, while Mrs. Pearce was consoled with the booby trophy.

After the game guests gathered around the big table in the dining room, beautiful in all its appointments, where supper was served and where stories were told and songs sung to round out the happy occasion.

SEEKS DANGEROUS SERVICE

Mrs. A. T. Davis 515 Orange Grove avenue, received word a few days ago from her son Lawrence, who was then at Fort McDowell, Angel Island, that he had applied for admission to the Gas and Flame Department and expected soon to be on the way to Washington, D. C. for assignment. He promised to send his new address just as soon as he could state it positively.

NO PAPER CHRISTMAS

Christmas is in the list of the Evening News holidays, therefore there will be no paper published from the News office on that day. The Evening News holidays are Christmas, New Years, Decoration Day, Fourth of July, Labor Day and Thanksgiving. Merry Christmas to everybody.

MERGER PROBLEMS

TRUSTEES CONSIDER BUILDING ORDINANCE FOR GREATER GLENDALE

City Clerk Sherer states that Glendale Trustees are devoting considerable attention to the problems which will grow out of the consolidation of Tropico and the Jewel City. One of these problems is the building ordinance which will have to be made to cover the additional territory and to provide fire districts therein. Tropico's water supply and system, and its probable purchase, is another problem which will require considerable consideration.

The union will not become effective until the final papers are filed with the Secretary of State and in all probability that will not take place before January 10th. The city fathers had a conference with the Tropico trustees last Thursday and will probably have several more before consolidation is effected. Some kind of a celebration which will be agreeable to the citizens of the two municipalities to mark the union when finally accomplished, is in their thoughts, but just what form it will take has not been determined.

CHRISTMAS RECEPTION

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Willisford have arranged to receive their friends on Christmas day for a farewell visit and goodbye, and will be glad to welcome everybody. They will keep open house from three to five in the afternoon and from 7:30 to 9 o'clock in the evening.

They have been so long and intimately associated with the life of Glendale in its best aspects that they have accumulated a host of friends who will be glad to take advantage of this opportunity to big them Godspeed. Mr. Willisford will leave for France Wednesday morning, and the other members of the family will depart for Claremont Thursday or Friday.

RED CROSS LUNCHEON

There was a grand rush for entertainment at the Saturday luncheon at Red Cross headquarters which is regularly served there once a week by Mrs. J. Boettner, assisted by Mrs. H. S. Duffield. Because of the Red Cross drive and Christmas preoccupations, none of the customary helpers were on hand, except Mrs. Goff, nevertheless the ladies were equal to the emergency having themselves prepared stocks of salad, meat loaf, pudding, etc. Mrs. Boettner at once put matters on a cafeteria basis where all who came could help themselves, and it worked out all right. While the returns to the Red Cross were not big, they were sufficient to reward the ladies for their sacrifice to the cause.

HOODOO JUNCTION

The junction of San Fernando Road and Verdugo keeps up its gruesome record. It was here that the two Misses Burton were killed and their mother badly injured a year ago and where a few months later Harry Moore's auto was crashed into by another machine and all four occupants injured. Saturday night an auto in which were C. F. Matthews and Frank Goings, of Los Angeles, was overturned at the unlucky spot and both men injured. The Los Angeles receiving hospital ambulance, in hurrying to pick up the injured men threw a tire at Avenue Twenty and San Fernando Road. This caused the machine to swerve and crash into an auto driven by John I. McClure of Los Angeles. The latter was not injured but his machine was wrecked.

CHRISTMAS DINNER

A Christmas dinner party will be given tomorrow at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Sanders, 1320 North Brand boulevard, at which covers will be laid for ten, the guests including: Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hearnshaw, and daughter Marie, Mr. and Mrs. M. Rudholm of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Viohl, of Glendale. The dinner will be served at one o'clock and guests will remain for a social afternoon and evening.

MARRIAGE OF HARRY CUTTING

Friends of Harry Cutting will be interested to learn of his marriage about two weeks ago to a young lady of Ontario, California. At different times Harry has resided in Tropico for considerable periods. He is a nephew of E. R. Best, and has quite a large circle of acquaintances in that city. The bride and groom will spend Christmas with Mr. Cutting's parents in Long Beach.

CLOSED FOR CHRISTMAS

EXEMPTION BOARD WILL HOLD NO SESSIONS TONIGHT OR TOMORROW

Sunday was a busy day at the headquarters of the Exemption Board in the Chamber of Commerce. A full quota of attorneys was on hand including besides Mr. Mackay: H. P. Goodwin, F. L. Muhleman, Clair Van Etten, W. E. Evans, Frederick Baker and Olin Spencer. About thirty-five registrants appeared and they kept these gentlemen occupied, as the filling out of a Questionnaire is not a matter which can be hurried very much.

Miss Clara Midcalf of the Intermediate School, Miss Vera McPherson, grammar school teacher, and Miss Helen Goldthwait of the High School, assisted the Board Saturday evening and Miss Goldthwait was assisting this morning.

Mr. Lanterman reports that about thirty registrants are behind time and unless they show up today will be listed in Class 1-a, losing their right to claim exemption.

The Board will not be open tonight, Christmas eve, nor tomorrow.

CLASS REUNION

Twenty-four members of the class of 1917, Union High, had an informal but altogether delightful class reunion and dancing party at G.A.R. Hall last Saturday evening, for which one of the Howdy orchestras furnished the music. Ed Seay, Ernestine Lyons and Aileen Preeman arranged the affair which was quite impromptu and which was especially gotten up for the boys and girls who are home for the holidays from college and from normal school, and soldier boy members of the class who came up from the camps at San Pedro and San Diego. Refreshments of ice cream and French Pastry were served and everybody had an exceedingly good time.

ANDERSONS WILL ENTERTAIN

Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Anderson, of 401 West Ninth street, are planning to give a very delightful Christmas to a number of their friends. Mrs. Anderson has already received a Victrola from Santa, which will help to entertain the guests after the wonderfully planned dinner to which the friends are looking forward, as Mrs. Anderson is a fine cook and a most agreeable hostess. The invited guests are Mrs. Huston and daughter Jeannette, of Los Angeles, who arrived just a year ago from Idaho; Mr. and Mrs. Keoghe and two daughters, Mildred and Dorothy, of South Pasadena, who formerly lived in Glendale, Mrs. Karol Tabor and son Lincoln of 1523 Ivy. It is planned to have just 12 seated at the table.

AT THE SHIPYARDS

Berna Martin, the high school boy, is back from a brief trip to San Pedro whither he went in the hope of getting a holiday job and some Christmas money. He had heard of the great demand for workers at the shipyard and at the cannery and had high hopes when he left home, hopes which were dissipated by his experiences there. He reports that several hundreds of idle men were before seeking employment and no work for them, as ship building is not going forward quite as rapidly as during the fall. At the cannery also, men were being laid off, but that was to be expected as fall crops are pretty well taken care of.

SECOND LIEUT. LAWRENCE LAWSON

J. W. Lawson, of 1303 Chestnut street, has just received a clipping from the Omaha Bee giving the result of examinations in the balloon school at Fort Omaha. Among the successful ones was Lawrence, his son, who was appointed to a Second Lieutenancy. He would have made First Lieutenant had he been old enough.

ENCOURAGE MOTORISTS

FAVORS EDUCATING THE AUTO DRIVER TO REGARD TRAFFIC LAWS

To the Glendale Evening News:

I have read the communication from the "Committee of Business Men and Tax Payers" published in your paper December 17th, and the reply of City Recorder Lowe, on Dec. 20th. To my mind there is merit in both communications while each of them contain matter that is open to criticism, but I do not doubt our Board of Trustees are broad-minded enough to settle the matter to the satisfaction of all concerned. However, Judge Lowe makes a statement that I as a business man of Glendale cannot but criticize. He says, "I am perfectly willing to assume by reason of the fines and penalties inflicted in my court, full responsibility for any injury to the feelings of those who think they have been injured or to the business interests of the city of Glendale, and have no apology to make in any instance or under any conditions for my acts." Before permitting him to assume the heavy responsibilities he wishes to shoulder for the business interests of this city I would direct his attention to the vigorous campaign the city of Azusa waged against the autoists some years ago, and urge him to make inquiry as to the effect it had on the business of the town. My recollection is that the town was virtually blacklisted and avoided by auto drivers. Other towns on the Foothill boulevard had similar experiences and conditions became so unbearable that the business interests of the various towns organized and made a stand for sane speed laws, and today the motorist along that highway is greeted by new signs as he enters those towns, such as "A reasonable speed will be appreciated." Such an appeal meets with a quick and favorable response, and brings business and no speed officer is needed. Some of the Ventura county towns are now driving business away from their merchants through the medium of a senseless war they are waging on motorists. Three men from Glendale were arrested recently on a straight highway far from any town when the speed trap caught them doing 31 to 33 miles per hour. One of these men made the remark that he would drive 10 miles on the rim rather than buy repairs in a Ventura county town. These men are not joy riders but business men who travel the highways on business and they are the kind of drivers who have their cars under control and while they doubtless drive at from 30 to 35 miles per hour on the open road they know enough to slow down on approaching intersections and when passing through inhabited sections.

There are several places of business on Colorado boulevard that are supported by the automobile travel over that thoroughfare and many dollars a day are spent in other business houses on Glendale by the transient motorist and I believe Glendale business men as a whole are desirous of encouraging motor travel through our city rather than drive it away as is being done in Santa Ana and Ventura today.

I am heartily in favor of curbing the reckless drivers, but it can be done without incurring the ill will of the entire motoring public.

Fresno has a system in effect that has worked in a very satisfactory manner during the past year. They have posted signs appealing to the motorists to observe their very reasonable speed regulations, and in addition to this a number of deputies have been appointed in each town in the county, these men are selected from the most reliable business concerns. According to Mr. Waterman of Waterman Bros., Fresno, who is one of the deputies, their plan is; first—warn an offender and mail him a form letter appealing to his sense of fair play to discontinue his objectionable acts. In this letter an effort is also made to enlist the recipient in the cause of law and order and he is urged to set an example for others and to report instances of reckless driving that may come to his attention. Mr. Waterman states further that few arrests are necessary and that the great majority of the motorists keep within the law.

Verily, I am in favor of educating the motorist by making him see that it is to his best interest to keep within the law and to have a proper regard for the rights of others. This cannot be accomplished by the use of a spy system or any other method that does not instantly appeal to the latent sense of fairness harbored in the breast of every man or woman worthy the name.

Very truly,

J. G. HUNCHBERGER.

CHRISTMAS

Christmas! Trade active in mistletoe and holly; big demand for toys; everybody carrying packages; smiles and gay greetings, even from overworked postmen and express agents.

Christmas! and the boys and girls coming home from college to fill homes with the joy of youth.

Christmas! and the soldier boys coming back from camp for a holiday dinner, straighter and taller than when they went away, enjoying the deference their uniforms inspire and pleased with the attentions they receive; father very proud to have such a son in the army; mother no less proud but with a clutch at her breast when she thinks what soldiering means.

Christmas! and busy housewives, who would rather be at home making plum puddings, packing boxes of home comforts and basket of goodies for the children whom Santa Claus forgot.

Christmas! and little children gathering around fragrant fir trees abloom with lights and tinsel, singing about the Star of Bethlehem and the Child in the Manger.

Christmas! and service flags in the windows, beautiful flags on the new flag pole, the Stars and Stripes at the top, the Red Cross below, and in every heart the solemn song of consecration, "My County, 'Tis of Thee."

Christmas! and multitudes gathering to hear the triumphant declarations of Handel's Messiah: "And I will shake all nations; and the desire of all nations shall come.

"O thou that tellest good tidings to Jerusalem, lift up thy voice with strength. Say unto the cities of Judah behold your God. Arise, shine, for thy light is come.

"The people that walked in darkness have seen a great light! and they that dwell in the land of the shadow of death, upon them hath the light shined.

"Why do the nations so furiously rage together and why do the people imagine a vain thing? Thou shalt break them with a rod of iron. Thou shalt dash them in pieces like a potter's vessel.

"Hallelujah! for the Lord God Omnipotent reigneth."

Christmas.

CHILDREN'S DANCE

The big party for Children of the Keller School at Butler's Hall last Saturday, was a very pretty spectacle which greatly pleased the parents and friends who were permitted to attend as onlookers. The little guests were nearly all in fancy dress costumes of the greatest variety. There were sweet old fashioned little girls in big hoopskirts and flowered poke bonnets, Turkish ladies, clowns, Red Cross nurses, Liberty Girls in blue tarleton spangled with stars, sons and daughters of Erin, with green very much to the fore in their raiment. There were colonial gentlemen in velvet knee breeches and gold lace, and little Red, White and Blue patriots.

A very charming item on the program was the song and dance "The Sweet Long Ago," by Marie Hearnshaw in a beruffled flowered gown, flaring hoopskirt, and coquettish bonnet. She was certainly good to look upon and to hear.

The balance of the program was given almost entirely by the little pupils of the school, i.e., children 5, 6 and 7 years of age. It included the St. Denis Mazourka, danced by Elizabeth and Beatrice Turner. Then little Beatrice alone, barefooted and dressed in dainty pink chiffon, gave an interpretive dance called "The Star of the East," to tremendous applause, as she is only a baby thought a very sweet, dear baby. She also recited: "Keep an Eye on Sammy Wilson."

Emmeline Chalfant did a fancy waltz number dressed in pink accordeon pleated chiffon.

Mary Alice Ross, in Scotch costume gave a Scotch recitation and danced the Highland Fling very prettily.

Doris Wolf also had a recitation and dance.

At the last and as a surprise, Merna and Merle Kahler appeared after having done their turn at Pantages, and received a perfect ovation from the children.

A beautiful Christmas tree centered the platform with heaps of particolored bags of candy and nuts piled around it. These were distributed to the children who were also served with punch and cake. They danced until five o'clock and had a royal good time, and also a perfectly orderly well-behaved time. There wasn't a rough, boisterous note in the whole performance, and parents were greatly delighted.

SURPRISE BIRTHDAY DINNER

Mrs. Lillian Dow, of Orange street, was a most gracious hostess Saturday evening, December 22d, when she entertained at a surprise birthday dinner for Mrs. H. E. Bartlett.

At a little before six o'clock, Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett were ushered into the Dow living room and as the lights were switched on beheld the rest of the gathered guests.

Covers were laid for twelve at a table very beautiful in its festive decorations, suggestive of the Yuletide. The centerpiece was a basket of poinsettias and ferns, while a broad red satin ribbon was stretched from one corner of the table to the opposite one ending in huge bows. Red baskets of bonbons marked each place. Not the least enjoyable part of the delicious dinner was the birthday cake elaborately iced in red and white and marked with the initials of the honoree. The cake was further decorated with the American and Red Cross flags, the latter significant of Mrs. Bartlett's untiring Red Cross work.

After the dinner the usual occupation of knitting busied the ladies, and Mrs. Dow found some very apt pupils among the gentlemen guests at winding several hanks of yarn.

Later 500 was enjoyed followed by solos by Mrs. Dow and Miss Dorothy.

At a late hour all left for their homes highly appreciative of being included in the most delightful evening.

Dinner guests were Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, Mr. and Mrs. Wash Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. McIlroy, Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Petersen, Mrs. Mabel Ocker and Miss Bartlett, besides Mrs. and Miss Dow. Later Mrs. Philp, Mrs. Church and Miss Cornwell came in for the evening.

—A Guest.

AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Philathea girls won a long credit at the Presbyterian Church in Tropico where a very pretty Christmas party for which they were chiefly responsible took place Friday night.

It was a mixed program of music and recitations which opened with an instrumental number by the orchestra which has just been organized by Mrs. Clyde Seal and of which she is the piano accompanist. It was composed of Irene Ward, Bessie Wood, Landon Haynes and his little son, Andrew Ballentyne and George Harrison. Then the Philathea girls sang "Holy Night," which was followed by another chorus number, contributed by Miss Tirza Snell's class of young girls and which was entitled "Dear Little Stranger." Evelyn Hornung recited "The Night Before Christmas," and then the combined classes of Mrs. Merritt Ludden and Mrs. Will Hillman prseented "Jingle Bells" in an altogether novel way. In front of the class was a white screen above which their heads showed during the singing of the verses, but when the chorus was sung the heads disappeared and only feet were visible dancing in mid-air to the accompaniment of jingling bells.

That novelty was followed by another chorus number by the Philathea Girls who sang "Joy to the World." The primary class then gave their contribution, to songs, viz. "Baby Jesus" and "Jesus Bids Us Shine." Mildred Moody recited "How Far Is It to Christmas?" and the orchestra played while the congregation sang, "Brighten Up the Corners." Two important instrumental numbers which were much enjoyed were a piano solo by Miss Ruth Ryder and piano duet by Gladys Martin and Mida Butler. The program closed with the singing of "America" in which all joined, led by the orchestra.

Santa Claus then appeared and distributed sacks of candy and trifling gifts to the little ones. The gifts of food and clothing brought by the children were piled high upon the tables provided for their reception, and today they are to be sent to the Industrial Mission in Los Angeles, where there is great need.

CHRISTMAS CANTATA

The Christian church was crowded Sunday evening to hear the Christmas cantata given by members of the home and Naomi Avenue, Los Angeles, choirs, under the leadership of Mrs. John D. Cole, directress of the Glendale church's singers. Pastor Cole led up to the musical numbers with a story of the origin of the Christmas tree and then, while all in the audience waited expectantly, soft, beautiful strains of "O Silent Night" played by organ and violin were heard as if coming from a long distance. The air was played through once, then faint and far away, were heard the words of the song by the full choir, growing stronger with each verse. Then the last one was repeated very softly, the choir slowly marching to their places during the singing. The cantata was then given and all seemed to enjoy it very much. The two months' training by Mrs. Cole was evident in the perfect blending of voices in the duets, quartets and choruses. The solos were beautifully rendered also. Those from Naomi Avenue church taking part were Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Burghardt, Mrs. Carl Hickman, Mrs. Ethel Werden, Miss Georgie Cloud, Lawrence Cole and Ernest Rogers, as singers and Forrest Cole as violinist. The two Messrs. Cole are brothers of Clifford Cole, pastor of the church. This same cantata will be given in the Naomi Avenue church on New Year's eve.

Mrs. Elizabeth Wood, of 418 North Orange street, has recently returned from an extended trip through the East. She is better satisfied with California than ever and with Glendale in particular. Madame B. M. ParDee, a modiste of unusual ability, has come out from Los Angeles and taken apartments with Mrs. Wood.

Among the recent arrivals in Glendale are Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Turner, of Chicago, parents of Earl C. Turner, 1520 Burchett street. It was zero weather when they left Chicago and they are more than delighted with these sunny California days in Glendale. They plan to spend the winter and may decide to locate here permanently.

This time he was accompanied by his mother and his son-in-law. H. Van Pelt, formerly of Orange City, Iowa, and more recently of Hollywood, has purchased the fine residence at 119 North Central. Before occupying it he had the interior redecorated by one of our local men and it presents quite a pleasing appearance. Mr. Van Pelt has two brothers from Orange City visiting him. He has worked with the Mayos of Rochester, Minensota, and has a big reputation on this coast though he is a young man.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Liddell, of 234 North Kenwood avenue, were made happy by the return Saturday evening from Camp Kearny of their son Frank Liddell, Jr., who is in Battery F. He was as happy as his parents but on Sunday he broke out with the measles and will probably not be able to leave home for two weeks. If it was to be, his mother is glad to have him home under her care, but the boy is disapopinted to lose the good time he expected to have for his Christmas holiday.

P.-T. A. AS SANTA CLAUS

COMMITTEE HARD AT WORK IN PREPARING XMAS CHEER FOR 78 CHILDREN

At the Christmas headquarters of the P.-T. A. on West Broadway, ladies were busy Saturday afternoon packing boxes for the forty or more families they will remember this year and the seventy-eight children whom Santa Claus was not able to include in his list. It had quite the appearance of a general store with shelves loaded with groceries, fruits, etc., and more shelves piled high with children's clothing. According to the chairman, the gifts (which have been contributed by the school children of Glendale and Tropico, by the First Methodist Church of Glendale, and by private donors) included everything imaginable from spectacles and furniture to canned fruit.

On a long counter were children's books and toys of every sort, beautiful dolls, doll furniture, tops, Teddy Bears, games, wagons, blocks, engines and cars, laundry appliances, ten pins, toy cannon, etc., etc.

One third of the families listed will receive cooked Christmas dinners prepared in Glendale homes by generous housewives. Fresh meat will go into the baskets sent out Monday, and besides the substantial foods, there will be pie and cake made by pastry experts, and candy and nuts donated by Glendale merchants.

Mrs. Wattles and Mrs. Todd, Tropico members of the committee, were hard at work Saturday and they expected all hands would be needed Monday to prepare the big consignments of Christmas cheer which would be dispatched to make a Merry Christmas for the seventy-eight little boys and girls whom Santa Claus did not want to have overlooked.

GAUL'S "HOLY CITY" ORATORIO INSPIRES LARGE AUDIENCE

Enthusiasm, inspiration, devotion are the terms that describe the feelings of the large audience which attended the First Methodist church on Sunday evening. The occasion will long be remembered by those who delight in the lofty, aspiring, triumphant strains of the masterpieces of sacred music. And it may be said that the rendering of Gaul's "Holy City" was worthy of any church in the country. The ensemble, quartets, solo and other work of the choir, reflected great credit upon the choir and the director, Miss Isabelle Isgrig.

With a few exceptions, namely two hymns, a verse from Milton and three verses from the Te Deum, the words of the oratorio are entirely scriptural. The whole production is athrob with desire, promise, realization and triumph. The work of the choir showed a realization of the spirit of the production, and every member of the chorus, as well as those rendering special parts, gave themselves to the interpretation of it. The feeling and expression, from beginning to end, were well sustained. The special features of the oratorio were:

Quartet, with tenor solo, "No Shadows Yonder," Miss Margaret Lusby, Dr. Ralph Lusby, Mrs. E. Starkey, Dr. C. R. Lusby. Soloist, Dana Burket.

Air, "My Soul Is Athirst for God," Dana Burket.

Trio, "At Eventide It Shall be Light," Miss Marion Addison, Mrs. E. Starkey, Mrs. Helene Salisbury.

Air, "Eye Hath Not Seen," Mrs. E. Starkey.

Air, "A New Heaven and a New Earth," and Choral Sanctus, "Holy, Holy, Holy," Dr. Ralph Lusby and Chorus.

Air, "These Are They Which Came Out of Great Tribulation," Miss Isabelle Isgrig.

Duet, "They Shall Hunger No More," Miss Isgrig, Mrs. Starkey.

Duet, "And I Heard the Voice of Harpers," Miss Margaret Lusby and Mr. A. J. Haines.

The attendance and the expressions of approval showed the appreciation of the oratorio, and also the gratification for the work of the choir in presenting really first-class music.

TIMBER SALES DOUBLED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24—Sales of National Forest timber in the fiscal year 1917 were more than double those of 1916, according to the Annual Report of the Forester. The total amount sold exceeded two billion feet and is valued at more than $3,715,000. During the same period about 727 million feet were cut and removed, for which the purchasers paid $1,507,303 into the Federal Treasury. The largest sales were made in Oregon, where about 688 million board feet were disposed of.

In addition to the timber sold, approximately 113 million board feet valued at almost $150,000 was cut under free use permit by more than 41,000 settlers living near the National Forests and depending on the Forests for firewood and building material to improve their homesteads.

The timber business on the Eastern Purchase Areas, while still small as compared with the Western Forests, showed a decided increase, the report states. More than three times as much timber was sold and more than twice as much cut as in 1916. The material disposed of, it is pointed out, is largely of poor quality and its removal will improve the forest growth.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH NOTES

"The Spirit of Christmas" was the topic of the Sunday morning sermon at the Presbyterian Church. Rev. W. E. Edmonds' dominant thought was that there could be no real Christmas without the "Christmas Spirit." The practical thoughts were, that with this "Christmas Spirit" we would put Christ where He belongs—first. We will remember what He has done for us; our vision will be enlarged and clarified. New ideals will be formed as we realize how good God has been to us; and we will have "power" in place of being weaklings. Also it will give us "Self-mastery." "We are what we are by the grace of God." Our gifts to the Christ-child should be like those of the Magi, "gold," the one of most value, our soul; "frankincense," worship, our costliest alabaster boxes should be broken at His feet; and "myrrh" our sorrows "Cast thy burden on the Lord, and He shall sustain thee."

"The Christmas Spirit." "Even as the Son of Man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister."

Sunday evening the Christmas program was given during the sermon hour. The decorations and tree were beautiful and the children delighted the large audience with their entertainment under the direction of the Superintendent Mr. Camphouse, and the chairman of the program, Miss Field. Rev. Edmonds gave a talk on "Three Ways to Give." The Christmas offering for the Armenian Relief Fund was over $70.

Thursday afternoon the Primary department had their annual Christmas party. Those who came as guests were sixty girls from the Forsythe Memorial School of Los Angeles, brought to Glendale and taken home in autos by members of the church, and also the Cradle Roll Babies and their mothers from our own church. Including our primary children and their guests there were over 250 who enjoyed the afternoon. After the program ice cream, cakes and popcorn were served, and each one was given a small favor and a conucopia of candy and nuts.

LUTHERAN CHRISTMAS SERVICE

Delighted! Fine! We enjoyed it vary much! And all sorts of complimentary remarks were passed as the people filed out of the Lutheran Church last night after the Christmas service. This was the "high water mark" of all entertainments given by the Lutheran people in Glendale. The decorations with the electric lighted tree were very tastefully arranged and drew much comment. The crowded house was the largest ever assembled to hear a Lutheran entertainment. The Christmas playlet, "White Gifts for the King's Birthday," with stage arrangements, throne, surroundings, gowned attendants and all was everything that could be expected. The young people certainly did splendid. The duet "Silent Night" by the Mott brothers, cornet and saxophone, was a delightful part of the program. Every part of the evening's entertainment was richly enjoyed by all. As to the Primary and Junior departments much credit reflected on patience and interest shown by those who have the same in charge. The little soloists were Mabelle Frazier and Dorsey Mottern. Those who rendered duets were the Seeley Twins and the Prof. Clark children. The soloists in the choruses were Marion Von Feldt and Louise Daugherty. The following tots gave recitations: Nellemeta Perry, Rebecca and Esther Kline, Ruth Oliver, Louise Daugherty, Gladys Russell. There were two exercises by the following boys and girls, Harold Tipton, Billy Wolffe, Earl Seeley, Dorsey Mottern and Norman Tathum, Marie Clark, Marjorie Olson, Florence Seeley, Clara Louise Russel and Marion Von Feldt. There was a splendid response for "White Gifts" for the shut-in children at the County Hospital and a surprise offering received. The whole affair was a great credit to all.

WONDERFUL RED CROSS DRIVE

Saturday's dailies announced that the goal of 10,000,000 members of the Red Cross in the United States has been reached and passed and that it was thought the membership would reach 15,000,000. As the drive for new members was almost entirely in the hands of the women it shows what a mighty power they are when they concentrate their efforts on a worthy work.

ENTERTAINED LITTLE FOLK

The primary teachers of the Christian Sunday School gave a Christmas party to their pupils Saturday afternoon in the bungalow. A light treat in conformity with the spirit of the times, was provided, also music, games and story-telling. The little folk entered heartily into the spirit of sacrifice which has been dwelt upon so persistently by all the Sunday School heads, and seemed glad that their money should go to feed the starving Armenian and Syrian children.

PARKERETTS

Pious, Patriotic, Personal, Seasonable, Sensible. If otherwise, "Pick 'em Out."

By SAMUEL PARKER

Standing within the shadow of the Court of Final Review, on human actions few of mine do I contemplate with more general satisfaction than when I by resolution in convention, asked the body of Sunday School teachers to banish the Heathen Santa Claus from their Christmas programs and give the Christ-child a chance to celebrate his own birthday among his own people in a Christian way. Working along this line for 25 years, in convention, school, song, speech and pen, I have had great success in dethroning the heathen who still lives, but should not, for today he is Hun, Heathen, Beer, Bachinal and German. "Raus mid him."

What greater example of militarism do we ask—can we get—than to see Bishop Cantwell and Bishop Leonard parading our streets arm in arm (metaphorically), lustily singing "Onward Christian Soldiers." Amen. Sing on Brethren, the sight is suggestive of the millenium vision. Dropping the metaphor (where you please) this much is in range for observation. Leonard and Cantwell could have exchanged recent speeches without suspicion of one getting the advantage of the other. "Behold how sweet and pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in harmony."

While speaking on world-wide Democracy—Say this of one whose vision was world wide on that line sing—

"Lincoln our own the theme's too narrow,
Let no selfish banner be unfurled,
While there's a slave involved in sorrow
Lincoln belongs to all the world."

Would you believe it, that anyone could be found in print advocating the suppression of the Christian anthems and songs because of the Advent Song "Peace on earth good will to men." Guess not—that song has right of way in all countries, climes and races and is loudest sung in the militant camps with a meaning unknown and unknowable by any advocate of suppression."

No boasting in this—but when in convention years ago I offered this: Resolved that we will banish from our libraries and center tables all such publications as insult our temperance principles by glaring parade of liquor advertisements, often doubly offensive by use and parade of the American flag. In this move at that time I "builded better than I knew."

He has no creditable standing among his fellowmen, who deliberately tells a falsehood to any adult. The holiest thing this side of heaven is the faith of a little child. Can you tell a child a falsehood, or anything they will find out to be false later on and not do a great injury to that mind? "No harm done," you say, "they soon learn better." All around are adults today who never fully recovered from the Santa Claus deception.

A "Commercial Christmas" has well nigh robbed the season of every vestige of its religious characteristics. And left, instead fun, folly and vaudeville. While the season should be the most joyous, happy and gladsome of the entire year, it could be made so and kept so under reasonable church supervision without turning performers and programs over to the world. Did you ever endure a two hour program without a prayer, a song or a word from the Word. Fortunate if you did not.

Oh that by some magic power I could cause all the home sick in the army and for this festive season bring across all seas and over all rail routes and auto roads and put the brave boys again in their mother's arms. "Home for Christmas." How gladly would I do this—but where ever you may be—though abroad or on the sea, in camp or on the march this Christmas season will fill you with thoughts of home and mother and the home ties if weakened become bands of steel, while thinking of home and mother.

Of gifts Tupper says: "I had a seeming friend. I gave him gifts and he was gone. I had an open enemy. I gave him gifts and won him." How amusing the gift game really is as it is generally played—striving to strike a balance in advance as to probable value of what he will give me before I give to him. This form of giving has no moral value whatever. Give something of value or use that you do not actively need yourself to somebody who does actually need it and mark the difference.

CHRISTMAS SERVICES, CHURCH OF THE HOLY FAMILY

Mass on Christmas at 7:30, 9:30 and 10:30.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH SERVICES

Sunday School was ushered in with an interesting Christmas talk by the pastor. At the close, the morning worship began immediately with the communion service, after which Elder Cole preached on the subject, "If Christ Had Not Come." comparing the darkened condition of heathen nations today with the enlightenment of those taking the principles of the Christian religion as their guide. A young girl from the Sunday School responded to the invitation given at the close, by confessing her faith in the Savior.

29TH ANNUAL TOURNAMENT OF ROSES MOST BEAUTIFUL

Where to go on New Year's Day is a problem that never bothers residents of Southern California. Pasadena's annual Rose Tournament is naturally the objective point of everybody who wants to go anywhere at all. The parade in the morning, the football game in the afternoon, and the brilliant ball in the evening afford a full day's diversion, and offers variety enough to suit anyone.

Thanks to the warm weather that has prevailed all fall and winter, it is expected there will be an unusually large supply of flowers for use in decorating floats, and the result should be the most beautiful floral pageant ever staged in the long history of these affairs. The one January 1st will be the twenty-ninth.

The football game in the afternoon is the big sporting event of the year. It will be between the Mare Island Marines and the Camp Lewis team. Net proceeds will go to the Red Cross.

CHRISTMAS LAWN PARTY

The associate teachers of Vernon Spencer gave a Christmas lawn party at his home in Los Angeles. The members of Mrs. Eva Cunningham's class present were Virginia Hunchberger, Elizabeth Walker, Genevieve King, Beatrice Case, Helen Harsh, Lawrence Burns, Glen and Ralph Cunningham. Ice cream, cake and candy were served and there was a Christmas tree with a stocking full of candy on for each one present.
